A Trusted Guide for the Whole Homeschool Journey

We guide families through a complete classical Christian education from kindergarten through graduation, forming students grounded in truth and ready for life.

ONE FAMILY'S VERITAS JOURNEY

"We began with Veritas in kindergarten, using their recommended curriculum for traditional home-schooling. We loved the classical Christian model and were continually impressed by how much our children were learning.

When our children reached 7th grade, we moved into the Veritas Diploma Program and online classes. They were challenged and grew tremendously in knowledge and understanding.

Now our oldest is finishing the first part of his educational journey as a senior. He has completed all six years of Omnibus, and this photo shows what an accomplishment that truly is.

Over the years, I was especially grateful for the guidance of our Academic Advisor, who helped us make wise high-school choices in preparation for life after graduation. That experience meant so much to me that I wanted to offer the same support to other families.

Today, it is a joy to serve as a Veritas Academic Advisor, coming alongside families who share that same vision for classical Christian education."

- Alisha E.

Welcome

When we speak with others about Veritas Press, they are quick to observe that we are part of a rapidly growing movement—and we sense it as well. Classical Christian education has received increasing attention in recent years, highlighted by coverage in major news outlets and acknowledgment from public leaders.

Whatever one’s perspective on the current political climate, alternatives to public education are enjoying expanded opportunities for funding—more than at any point in recent memory. Numerous states (see the back cover for details) have enacted legislation to help families afford educational options beyond the traditional system. The “Big Beautiful Bill,” for example, introduced a $1,700 tax credit for all U.S. taxpayers. Beginning in 2027, individuals may contribute that amount to qualified scholarship organizations and receive a $1,700 tax credit. These funds will help institutions like Veritas extend financial assistance to families in need.

The broader accessibility of classical Christian education is a welcome development. We trust it will serve as a means by which God advances the work of Restoring Culture for Christ One Young Heart and Mind at a Time.

We have recently (re)published several significant works, many enhanced with features designed to support classical learners, emphasizing Christian worldview formation, Latin roots, and other foundational elements. Among these titles are Alice in Wonderland, Calvin’s Institutes, Codes of Hammurabi and Moses, Shakespeare’s Henry V, Histories: A Young Reader’s Herodotus, Yankee Doodle Boy, selections from Mein Kampf, and Communist Manifesto. (Those last two titles include critical notes and commentary that confront their bad ideas head on.) Other volumes are already in development.

Founded 28 years ago, Veritas Press set out to be the premier provider of curriculum for classical Christian education—a commitment we continue to pursue with diligence. We expanded that mission through Veritas Scholars Academy, our online school dedicated to offering an exceptional classical education to students everywhere. Across both endeavors, we labor carefully over every detail, because we believe every detail matters.

If you are new to Veritas, we invite you to explore this catalog to find not only what we offer, but why we teach as we do, when we introduce key concepts, and how our approach equips students for a life of thoughtful, faithful engagement.

At its heart, classical education seeks to cultivate in students a deep desire to learn from the past to live wisely in the present. Faithfulness to the gospel in our day is no small calling. Our mission is to come alongside you in that work.

What Kind of Education Is Forming Your Child?

What approach are you using with your children? Is it helping them grow not only in knowledge but in wisdom, character, and confidence? Is it preparing them for what comes next?

These are important questions. For many families, classical Christian education has provided a clearer answer: an approach that is academically rigorous, distinctively Christian, and aligned with how God made children to learn.

AN EDUCATION THAT PREPARES STUDENTS FOR LIFE

Most education is aimed at the next thing—the next test, the next grade level, the next milestone. Classical Christian education begins with a bigger end in mind: preparing young men and women for life.

At Veritas, that means helping students grow in knowledge, think clearly, communicate persuasively, and live with Christ-centered conviction. It means giving them not only information, but the wisdom and habits needed to understand truth, love what is good, and apply what they have learned faithfully.

Classical education follows a three-fold pattern of learning known as the trivium: grammar, dialectic (or logic), and rhetoric. This approach works with the grain of how children naturally develop.

When children are young, they are eager to absorb facts, language, and foundational knowledge. As they mature, they begin asking deeper questions, making connections, and testing ideas. Later, they grow in their ability to express themselves clearly, persuasively, and graciously.

Teaching in step with these God-given stages is remarkably effective. It helps students not only learn well, but become thoughtful, articulate, life-long learners—ready to engage the world with wisdom and courage.

Classical Christian education at Veritas is academically rigorous, distinctively Christian, and designed to form students who are prepared for life.

Students formed by classical Christian education learn to:

THINK CLEARLY • LOVE WHAT IS TRUE, GOOD, AND BEAUTIFUL • COMMUNICATE WISELY
LIVE WITH CHRIST-CENTERED CONVICTION

One Proven Method. 3 Ways to Learn with Veritas Press

TEACHING IN STEP WITH HOW YOUR CHILD LEARNS

Each child is unique, and each family needs a different level of support. At Veritas, every option is shaped by the same classical Christian foundation and designed to teach in step with how children learn and grow. Whether you choose parent-led curriculum, self-paced courses, or live online classes, your child is being formed by one coherent approach—academically rigorous, distinctively Christian, and preparing students for life.

YOU TEACH

Parent-led learning built on Veritas' proven curriculum and easy-to-use lesson plans. With scripted guidance and clear daily plans, parents can teach with confidence and stay organized while giving their children a rich classical Christian education.

SELF-PACED

Online History, Bible, Omnibus, and Rhetoric courses that combine engaging video instruction, interactive exercises, and built-in quizzes and exams. Designed to help learning stick, Self-Paced courses give students meaningful independence while offering families a flexible way to deepen learning at home.

LIVE ONLINE

Live online classes through Veritas Scholars Academy, taught by expert teachers across every subject. These classes give families the support of skilled instruction and a community of peers while keeping students challenged, engaged, and growing within a distinctly classical Christian education.

Independent Learning They'll Love. Knowledge That Lasts.

Veritas Press Self-Paced Courses make History, Bible, Omnibus, and Rhetoric engaging, effective, and easy to use at home. Built on our proven classical Christian approach, these courses combine strong content with interactive learning that helps students stay engaged and retain what they learn.

For families who want meaningful support in a subject area, Self-Paced offers a flexible option with built-in grading, guided instruction, and the freedom to learn from anywhere.

WHY CHOOSE SELF-PACED?

- ✓ Engaging instruction that helps learning stick
- ✓ Assignments and grading included
- ✓ Track student progress at any time
- ✓ Interactive reviews and built-in assessments
- ✓ Learn at your student's pace
- ✓ A flexible way to lighten the load in a subject

EXPLORE OUR COURSES:

HISTORY – Younger students dive into history through engaging instruction, memorable characters, and interactive activities that bring the past to life.

BIBLE – Scripture comes alive through animated storytelling, interactive learning, and engaging activities that help students understand and remember what they learn.

OMNIBUS – Designed for grades 7–12, these Great Books courses integrate history, theology, and literature through a biblical worldview, encouraging deep thinking, meaningful conversation and worldview formation.

RHETORIC – Designed for grades 10–12, our Rhetoric course helps students grow in writing, speaking, and persuasive communication—equipping them to express truth with clarity, conviction and love.

GRADES 2-6: Bible and History

GRADES 7-12: Omnibus (Humanities)

GRADES 10-12: Rhetoric

Christian. Classical. Accredited. Online.

Through Veritas Scholars Academy, students receive expert teaching, personal academic guidance, and a distinctively classical Christian education that prepares them for life after high school. Whether your student's future includes college, trade school, military service, the family business, or another calling, VSA helps them build the knowledge, discernment, and communication skills to move forward with confidence.

A CLEARER PATH FORWARD

As students move into the upper grades, many families want more than great curriculum. They want a clear plan, expert guidance, and confidence that their student is on the right track. That is what the VSA Diploma Program provides. Students follow an accredited academic path while families gain the support of dedicated advisors, experienced teachers, and a proven classical Christian school built to prepare students for what comes next.

PERSONAL GUIDANCE. PROVEN OUTCOMES.

Each Diploma student is paired with a dedicated Academic Advisor who helps map out courses, keep progress on track, and prepare for post-high school goals. Families do not have to navigate transcripts, graduation planning, and next steps alone. And the results speak for themselves: VSA graduates are prepared to think clearly, communicate persuasively, and step into college, work, and life with maturity and conviction. Many go on to strong college acceptances, earn an average of $45,000 in scholarships, and enter a wide range of callings after graduation. The path is rigorous, but it is built to prepare them for wherever their path leads.

REAL COMMUNITY, NOT JUST ONLINE CLASSES

VSA students are part of a real school community. Through live class discussions, teacher relationships, clubs, mission trips, and events like our End-of-Year Gathering, students build friendships and create memories that extend well beyond the screen. Online does not mean alone. It means students can receive a rich classical Christian education from home while still belonging to a global community that shares their values and goals.

A CHRISTIAN EDUCATION WITH THE END IN MIND

Biblical truth is not an add-on. It shapes every subject, every conversation, and every part of the student experience. Students are challenged to grow not only in knowledge, but in wisdom, character, and their ability to articulate what they believe and why they believe it. That is why VSA is more than an online school. It is the fullest Veritas experience—designed to prepare students for life.

Secondary Overview (7–12th)

The chart below shows the plan for a standard diploma at Veritas. Students who have followed the Veritas grammar school pace have had great success with this pace and content. Students coming into this structure sometimes need to make adjustments. So, if the recommendation doesn't fit, look at recommendations for the grade above or below.

	7TH GRADE	8TH GRADE	9TH GRADE

<sup>1</sup> Taking both Omnibus Primary and Secondary courses will prove one of the greatest benefits. Courses can be taken out of order, and it is not necessary to take all six courses. We do not recommend Omnibus IV–VI before 10th grade. Omnibus I–III can be taken 7th–12th grade.

<sup>2</sup> Can be taken the preceding year by students who have maintained the suggested Veritas pace.

Drawing With Children

Mona Brookes

Mona Brookes was hired by Gertrude Dietz, the director of a preschool, to teach realistic drawing to 100 four- and five-year-olds. When she sought curricula, she found none. About her experience she said, "Thank goodness Gertrude and I were ignorant of the prevailing philosophy that said you shouldn't give young children any guided instruction in the field of drawing. We assumed it was acceptable to give basic instruction in drawing, since this was true for music, dance, and all the other artistic subjects." With her neighbor, Elliot Day, a composer, she broke down the basic components of vision as one would break down a musical composition. This led to devising an "alphabet of shape" that consisted of five basic elements. Any object that a student wants to draw can be simply analyzed in terms of how these five elements of shape are combined. The result is every child can achieve realistic representation of subjects to be drawn.

There is no better way to teach your child to reproduce with his own hand the beauty of God's creation. This book teaches the grammar of art and is useful for any age level, but particularly K-6th grade. Soft 272p

Saxon I

Nancy Larson

This is the friendliest and most thorough math program available. Any student can master the grammar of math easily with Saxon's "incremental approach."

We do find it necessary and advisable to use the program ahead of the stated grade level—something John Saxon himself told us he supported—because children can handle it easily.

In using this program at this age you should realize that the text assumes students will read the problems. You may need to read problems to the students. This problem occurs with first graders, too, so there is no need for alarm. Home Study Kit includes Teacher's Manual, Workbook/Fact Cards and Meeting Book

Bede's History of ME

Ned Bustard and Amy Clark

We'd like to introduce you to Bede . . . a timeline who strongly resembles a ball of yarn. This lovable character introduces young children to the basics of history in a fun way—once a week, all year long. Topics include: how a timeline works, family history, the history of holidays, maritime history, music history, the history of toys, sports, dresses, and more. Even a little Church history is included! Imagine how fun it is to learn about timelines using the fairy tale Goldilocks and the Three Bears? A clear way to teach the importance of timelines and how God works in time. A second volume is available, too (see page 17). This is a home run. ★★★★★ Soft 69p eBook available #000090 $24.00

Phonics Museum

Marlin & Laurie Detweiler, Ned Bustard, and Diane Coleman

The Phonics Museum is an award-winning program that will have your child read a simple book in a few short weeks. Join Percival, a boy knight, as he takes children through an art museum, learning letters and sounds along the way. Your children will want to keep learning as they set out on this adventure. Using classical, time-proven methods, your child will learn to love reading.

Easy-to-follow scripted teacher's manuals give you everything you need to teach with confidence. Also included are alphabet flashcards using fine art, games, music, worksheets, great stories, art projects, and much more—all to teach using a comprehensive multi-sensory approach. Phonics Museum goes beyond simply teaching letter sounds and reading skills. This powerful program will inspire your child with a life-long love for learning! Call or visit VeritasPress.com for special pricing on classroom kits for schools.

"This app taught my 4-year-old to read! My daughter loved the app! It taught her all her letters and their sounds. And within a month she was able to read her first book. She begs to use the app!"

The Phonics Museum is also available in an app. Get a free trial at PhonicsMuseum.com.

So which do you do? We strongly recommend the app, if your circumstances permit. It will also work to do both, and that will clearly be best. If that's not practical, consider the app with a Student Kit (with or without the Primers). But by all means don't miss this remarkable time in the life of your child.

Legends & Leagues: Or Mr. Tardy Goes from Here to There

A CHILD'S INTRODUCTION TO GEOGRAPHY

Ned Bustard

Poor Elmo Tardy is always getting lost. But one day Tardy stumbles into the over-stuffed office of Legends & Leagues, Ltd. There he meets the lanky Mr. Meridian Longitude and the stout Mr. Azimuth Latitude—two cheery fellows who teach Mr. Tardy about the concepts of maps, points of the compass, geographic formations and more. Students will laugh and learn as Tardy is taught all he needs to know to get from Here to There. Using the workbook, students can apply what Mr. Tardy learned. Includes cut and paste state maps, world maps, coloring pages, and many more. A great introduction to geography. And the fun doesn't stop with this book. Four additional levels recount the further adventures of Longitude and Latitude. See pages 23, 32, 40, and 48.

Shurley English I

Brenda Shurley

The most astounding and effective grammar program available. We love that Shurley English program!

1. Who loves that Shurley English program? We —subject pronoun
2. What is being said about we? We love —verb
3. We love what? program verify the noun. Does program mean the same thing as we? No—direct object verb transitive
4. What kind of program? English—adjective
5. What kind of program? Shurley—adjective
6. Which program? that—adjective Subject noun, verb transitive, direct object, pattern two. Check.
7. Verb transitive. Check again. No—prepositional phrases.
8. !—strong feeling exclamatory sentence.
9. Go back to the verb. Divide the complete subject from the complete predicate.

The children also learn jingles to memorize the parts of speech, enabling and encouraging them to chant till they start dreaming grammar lessons. This program is easy to use and you will not believe what your children (and often the parents) will learn!

Author Brenda Shurley says, "The Shurley Method uses repetition, fun, student/teacher interaction, and a concrete set of questions about each word in a sentence to teach students how all the parts of a sentence fit together. It is important to study how all the parts of a sentence fit together because students need to understand sentence structure in order to speak and write successfully."

The success students enjoy with the Phonics Museum is unparalleled, and this kit works seamlessly with both the Kindergarten edition and the Phonics Museum App (available separately at PhonicsMuseum.com). Your child will not only learn to read quickly but will also love the process. You will, too. Rebecca G. of Charlotte, N.C., writes: "I want my children to be exposed to the arts and music and to love learning. . . . Thank you so much for writing a program that not only appeals to the child, but also to my adult tastes and desires. Your program has the elements that I would put into a program if I would have the time and the abilities to write a program for my children. And I can trust the people who have written it as well." The Phonics Museum incorporates the very best time-tested techniques of several hundred years in a fun art-based program that parents, teachers, and children will be drawn to again and again. ## First Favorites

Laurie Detweiler

For those seeking to lay a firm foundation for a life-long love of books, look no further. These guides contain all the questions and activities needed to fan into flame a student's passion for good literature.

The books covered represent all that is good about children's literature. A great next step after finishing the the Phonics Museum. This is a magical time in the student's reading journey, and these collections of books will nurture a deep love for good books.

In Volume 1 students are given developmentally tailored comprehension questions and, among other things, directions for a marshmallow-and-peanut butter jar easy chair! Volume 2 includes reading comprehension questions that are building in difficulty, and many "extras" as well. Both have handwriting exercises, a clear icon system for teachers to follow, and simple instructions for students to foster independent work. eBooks available

History of Art: Creation to Contemporary

Ned Bustard

God made us creative and on Mount Sinai gave instructions on how to use art. Virtually all cultures have made art, art that reveals its hopes, dreams, and beliefs. And by studying the art of past cultures, we can learn something about ourselves in the present. Fully integrated with the Veritas History Series (yet able to stand on its own), this art history program was designed to fill one year but is quite flexible.

This distinctively Christian overview of art history covers well-known works of art like Mona Lisa and American Gothic and also takes time to focus on art by Christians and about the Christian faith. Two great works of art are on nearly all of the 32 flashcards, along with information about each art movement studied. The full-color workbook contains comprehension questions, crafts, activities, readings, and features on artists of the faith. Call us for school and quantity pricing. ## Drawing With Children

You won't believe what your children will draw! Any object that a student wants to draw can be simply analyzed in terms of how these five elements of shape are combined. The result is every child can achieve realistic representation of subjects to be drawn.

There is no better way to teach your child to reproduce with his own hand the beauty of God's creation. This book teaches the grammar of art and is useful for any age level, but particularly K-6th grade. Soft 272p See description on page 13.

Covering 32 events in the books of Genesis through Joshua, students will learn the Bible from Creation through Joshua's Last Words. The self-paced course has clever interactions and striking video. Children join Abigail and Asher, her brother, along with animated characters Teb, an aloof cat, and Tizzy, a pesky gnat. Designed the same way as our history series, described on page 24, our Bible series applies the same time-proven classical method to studying the story of Redemption. ## Legends & Leagues South: Peter and the Story Box

Legends & Leagues, Ltd. provides geographic services for anyone who needs help knowing how to get from Here to There. Using their old and new maps, Mr. Latitude and Mr. Longitude are able to take their clients anywhere, anytime.

Wendy has gone home and now Peter Pan is in search of stories to tell the Lost Boys. So Mr. Latitude and Mr. Longitude travel South with Peter, and their adventures include pirates, magic carpets, folk tales (like "Anansi and the Turtle"), King Solomon, a merman, a jinni, a sphinx, and yes—even a hippopotamus.

The workbook includes comprehension worksheets with vocabulary for each chapter of the storybook, along with maps and study questions for each region. Optional worksheets, such as Local Flavor, Sightseeing, and Souvenirs will make imaginations soar.

Book 1 of this four-book series offers a unique path to handwriting mastery and spiritual development. Young students develop fine motor skills and cursive fluency by writing biblical truth, such as verses like "Trust in the Lord with all your heart" and "A soft answer turns away wrath." This integration of handwriting practice with reflection on Scripture transforms penmanship into a journey of spiritual growth.

Book 2 guides young students to master cursive through expanded writing of Scripture, creeds, and prayers, such as "Create in me a clean heart, O God" and "Our Father in heaven." This book builds on Book 1, further developing fine motor skills and cursive fluency while blending handwriting practice with Scripture.

Old Testament and Ancient Egypt History Series

Marlin and Laurie Detweiler, G. Tyler and Emily Fischer

For years we have taught history in a chronological fashion, integrating biblical history with world history. At the core of the program are 32 flashcards per year over five years, covering 160 events from Creation to today, with music that helps children quickly learn the timeline of these events. This award-winning program also includes a teacher's manual, a song to learn the timeline, and additional books as resources to teach the material. You can still use the program this way. In this series they learn the most important events from Creation to the Fall of Egypt.

Everyone who tries them, loves our self-paced courses. They are the best way to learn history for grammar school children. Actors and animated characters will teach through the 32 events. Games, art, and frequent interactions will have them begging for more. All the worksheets and quizzes are in the course and graded for you. Kids love it.

We also know that hands-on projects are crucial to many children's learning at this age. Pulling together great projects can be time-consuming. This Project book will save you all that time. It is in full color. Many of the projects are ready to go without much more than markers and glue. One needed per student.

We also recommend that you use one of the optional literature kits to enhance your child's learning. There are two kits available depending on the reading level of your child.

Journey Through the Bible

A rich, visually engaging guide to the story of Scripture from Genesis to Revelation. Developed in partnership with Lion Hudson in a version that fits naturally with the Veritas Bible curriculum, it helps students see the Bible as one coherent story of redemption rather than a collection of disconnected events.

With more than 400 colorful pages of text, photographs, maps, drawings, and charts, this book invites students to explore the people, places, and timeline of Scripture in a way that brings biblical history to life. It is both highly visual and deeply informative, making it an excellent companion for helping students better understand where events fit, how the biblical narrative unfolds, and why it matters.

This has long been one of our most recommended Bible resources—and for good reason. Students return to it again and again, and teachers and parents alike appreciate the depth, clarity, and beauty it brings to the study of God's Word. Hard 424p eBook available

Pages of History Vol. 1: Secrets of the Ancients

Bruce Etter and Lexi Detweiler

More than a history reader, Pages of History helps students see history as His Story. In this first volume, James and Lance travel from Creation through the Reformation, drawing readers into an unfolding adventure that makes the sweep of history memorable, meaningful, and hard to put down. The book covers 96 major events, reinforcing all three of the first Veritas history series—through a compelling narrative shaped by an unapologetically Christian worldview. It is an ideal bridge between memorized facts and deeper understanding, helping students connect people, events, and ideas across time while growing in a distinctly Christian view of the world. Perfect for family read-alouds or independent reading, it is one of the most engaging ways to make history stick. ## Excellence in Spelling: The Phonetic Zoo

Andrew Pudewa

Each lesson presents a rule, jingle or hint, with fifteen words which follow the rule OR break it. Flashcards with animals and animal names can be used for visual reinforcement. Every fifth lesson is a "personal spelling" test using words from the student's own writing or vocabulary. Students study independently, practicing the ten-minute lesson each day by taking the auditory "test" again and again until a perfect score is achieved. Creating a high repetition of auditory input, this "classical" approach is the best way for most children to learn spelling rules and words. Numerous online helps are available. An outstanding product from the Institute for Excellence in Writing.

The Grammar of Spelling 2

Jordan/Whitling

A classical approach to the subject of spelling based on two different types of spelling rules that correspond respectively to the first two stages of the trivium. This program contains an overview of the spelling program as a whole and includes weekly word lists and nonsense reproducible worksheets to be used in the homeschool or classroom. There are many spelling programs on the market, but Mr. Whitling, a third grade teacher at Logos School, has taken the most commonly-used rules and put them in a format conducive for chanting and integration with other disciplines. REPRODUCIBLE.

Reading difficulty is rated 1 (easy), 2 (average), or 3 (challenging) for the grade level and is shown at the end of each entry. Should your child be just finishing Phonics Museum or another reading program you may want to look in first grade literature at the First Favorites Series for additional titles.

Baby Island

Carol Ryrie Brink

After their ship sinks, twelve-year-old Mary and her sister Jean are marooned. A nightmare? No, a dream come true because they are shipwrecked with four babies! But will this be their home for the rest of their lives?

Laurie loved the book so much she immediately wrote the guide to go with it. It has comprehension questions for each chapter along with fun activities including paper dolls you can make for reliving the story again and again.

The Borrowers

Mary Norton

Homily, Pod, and their fourteen-year-old daughter Arrietty are a family of very tiny people who live beneath the kitchen floor of an old English country manor. All their minuscule home furnishings are "borrowed" from the "human beans." All is well until Pod is spotted upstairs by a human boy! Now that they are discovered, can they stay safely in their hidden home, or will they be forced to flee? The full-color guide has comprehension questions and many fun projects, including cut outs of the Clock family that can be used to make a diorama. (3) Soft 192p

The Boxcar Children

Gertrude Chandler Warner

Henry, Violet, Jessie, and Benny are orphans who live on their own in an old, red boxcar. Second graders will find all the "Boxcar" adventures delightful and entertaining. The guide covers Boxcar #1 and has projects that can be used throughout the rest of the series. It takes a bit of a different track from our other guides in that it focuses on the development of godly character. And there are still plenty of fun projects—including a sock teddy bear!

Little House Series

Laura Ingalls Wilder

This is the classic story of Laura Ingalls Wilder and her pioneer family. The first book (Little House in the Big Woods) takes place in Wisconsin and is a wonderful firsthand picture of American pioneer life that will draw children in and endear them forever.

The series is begun in second grade and some may continue it into third. A MUST READ introduction to "chapter" books. The guides provide comprehension questions and activities to teach the books effectively. Throughout the guides you will find projects for building a "little house," making a paper quilt, raising a tepee, fabricating a cornhusk doll, and more!

The Milly-Molly-Mandy Storybook

Joyce Lankester Brisley

Once upon a time there was a little girl. She had a Father, and a Mother, and a Grandpa, and an Uncle, and an Auntie; and they all lived together in a nice white cottage with a thatched roof. Set in the 1920's in England, these short stories about a resourceful and thoughtful girl have charmed generations. ## 2ND MEMORY PERIOD

Years ago on a school visit we had the opportunity to observe students reciting seemingly endless amounts of material that they had memorized. We were struck with the fact that this is a crucial, if not the key, ingredient to the Grammar Stage of classical Christian education. We learned that these students simply spent a small amount of time each day going through a long list of things to commit to memory. It is amazing what can be memorized in twenty minutes a day. Below, find important materials used that are not found elsewhere in the catalog. Not included here are the Bible and history songs, geography songs, grammar chants, Latin chants, and math memory songs.

Lyrical Life Science
"Promoting scientific literacy through song" is how these clever folks describe this fabulous tool. We don't teach science in grammar school—meaningful science requires certain language and mathematical mastery. Yet scientific memorization is important, and this is the tool. Sing "Oh Bacteria" instead of "Oh Suzanna" and "Cold Blooded Vertebrates" instead of "When Johnny Comes Marching Home." Your order includes MP3 downloads and eBooks for the text and workbook.

The Westminster Shorter Catechism Songs

Holly Dutton
When our boys were young we had them memorize all 107 answers to the Shorter Catechism. Why? Because the questions and answers provide a clear and concise, yet comprehensive, statement of doctrine and beliefs of Christianity—clarity of what they believe that will benefit them all their lives. We've also always been huge proponents of memorizing with music. Imagine our delight when we discovered these simple, melodic tunes with such clear pronunciation. Paul Kortepeter

Easy to teach! This series employs fluent reading, careful listening, models for imitation, and progressive steps. It assumes that students learn best by reading excellent, whole-story examples of literature and by growing their skills through imitation. The exercises are cumulative—later exercises incorporate the skills acquired in preceding exercises. This series is a step-by-step apprenticeship in the art of writing.

New Testament, Greece and Rome History Series

Marlin and Laurie Detweiler

G. Tyler and Emily Fischer

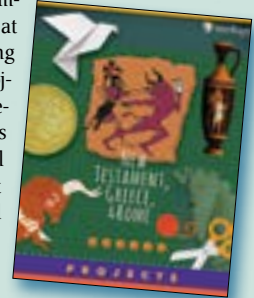

This series starts with civilizations that developed in ancient Greece. It then covers Greece, Rome, and New Testament events that coincide with the timeframe—32 events in all. Children learn biblically-recorded history alongside non-biblically-recorded history in a remarkable way to understand these important times. Everyone who tries them, loves our self-paced courses. They are the best way to learn history for grammar school children. Actors and animated characters will teach through the 32 events. Games, art, and frequent interactions will have them begging for more. All the worksheets and quizzes are in the course and graded for you. Kids love it.

We also know that hands-on projects are crucial to many children's learning at this age. Pulling together great projects can be time-consuming. This Project book will save you all that time. It is in full color. Many of the projects are ready to go without much more than markers and glue. One needed per student.

The History

Flashcards are a must for the Self-Paced course, and there's optional historical fiction. Whether you use the Self-Paced or You Teach option, you'll be amazed at the learning of your students. Read more about the series on page 24. eBooks available

Chronicles to Malachi

Marlin and Laurie Detweiler

G. Tyler and Emily Fischer

You want a self-paced course for this, and we're sorry we don't have it yet (or even a forecasted date). That doesn't mean your children should overlook studying these important books of the Bible.

One of our favorite verses is found in Micah 6:8. You need to teach the whole Bible to develop the whole child. Sadly, it won't be as easy as self-paced course, but it will be worth it. Using the cards, memory song, and teacher's manual, students study 32 events, learning about the major and minor prophets, the sufferings of Job, and how these books lead to the coming Messiah. Designed the same way as our history series, described on page 24.

Writing & Rhetoric

Paul Kortepeter

Easy to teach! This series employs fluent reading, careful listening, models for imitation, and progressive steps. It assumes that students learn best by reading excellent, whole-story examples of literature and by growing their skills through imitation. The exercises are cumulative—later exercises incorporate the skills acquired in preceding exercises. This series is a step-by-step apprenticeship in the art of writing.

Middle Ages, Renaissance, and Reformation History Series

Marlin and Laurie Detweiler,
G. Tyler and Emily Fischer

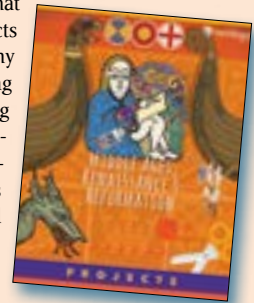

The Dark Ages? Hardly! They're neither unknown nor backward. This is a crucial period to study, as it connects us to biblical times and ancient civilizations. Colorful historical characters from Augustine to Alfred to Marco Polo to Gutenberg to Luther fill the landscape of this remarkable period.

Students can learn Self-Paced or You Teach. Everyone who tries them, loves our self-paced courses. They are the best way to learn history for grammar school children. Actors and animated characters will teach through the 32 events. Games, art, and frequent interactions will have them begging for more. All the worksheets and quizzes are in the course and graded for you. Kids love it. History flashcards are recommended for the Self-Paced, historical fiction is optional.

We also know that hands-on projects are crucial to many children's learning at this age. Pulling together great projects can be time-consuming. This Project book will save you all that time. It is in full color. Many of the projects are ready to go without much more than markers and glue. One needed per student. Read more about the series on page 24. eBooks available

 John Bunyun, Oliver Hunkin
 A world famous edition of Bunyan's classic tale A Pilgrim's Progress. Most of the brilliant illustrations are full- or double-page spreads with the text in a large, elegant typeface arranged in a variety of patterns around them. Gloomy dungeons, dark forests, black rivers and gray-clouded skies sustain the mood of danger and hardship. Useful for a variety of ages, this is one of the few books well worth reading in a children's edition. The comprehension guide has students make a "lift-the-flap" travel log of the journey to discuss the major themes of the Christian faith presented in the story. There are questions for every chapter, room to write in the answers, and solutions in the back.

William Shakespeare

Macbeth, Shakespeare's shortest tragedy, tells the story of a brave Scottish general who receives a prophecy from a trio of witches that one day he will be king. Murder, guilt, and madness fill this tale.

When you are studying the Renaissance why not have your students perform this famous play? We did and the children loved it!

In fact, our son Travis (then 11) told another of our sons, Parker (then 9), to "stop telling those odious tyrant lies" while attempting to settle on a choice of cereal at the store. (3) Soft 211p

Gospels Bible Series

Marlin and Laurie Detweiler,

G. Tyler and Emily Fischer

We think of the Gospels as the heart of the Bible. Stories about Jesus dominate much of our teaching—and for very good reason. This series incorporates those stories, but it does more. Through the 32 events studied, students will learn to sequence events, to see how the four Gospels parallel each other and come to grips with the most influential 33 years in all of history. Again, the Self-Paced options with the Bible cards is ours and most Veritas Families' favorite approach. You Teach is an option, too. But choose one. Don't make the mistake we see too often—that a merely devotional approach will produce adequate Bible learning.

Legends & Leagues West: The Tall Tales of Mr. Bunyan

Ned Bustard

By stepping into their maps Mr. Longitude and Mr. Latitude can go anywhere in the world. In this book they travel with the famous lumberjack, Paul Bunyan, in search for his blue ox. Nothing can stop them—not ghosts, giants, piranhas, pirates, or even the evil sea witch, Qalupalik. The trip includes a visit to El Dorado, Atlantis, and New York. They go sailing, spelunking, and they even get to meet Bigfoot!

The workbook includes comprehension worksheets with vocabulary for each chapter of the storybook, along with maps and study questions for each region. Optional worksheets, such as Local Flavor, Sightseeing, and Souvenirs will make imaginations soar.

Johann Wyss

"What our limited reason cannot grasp, let us be content to acknowledge as the workings of Almighty power and wisdom, and thankfully trust in that 'Rock,' which, were it not higher than we, would afford no sense of security to the immortal soul."

Join Ernest, Fritz, Franz, Mother and Father as they survive a shipwreck and start a new life for themselves on a deserted island. It is refreshing reading as they offer thanks to God for His provisions. Be careful though, your children may have a new weekend project for you after reading this. Our family built a four level tree house, rising 23 feet off the ground. With Dad's help of course. Along with questions and answers for every chapter, the guide boasts a Latin/English card game, a Pemmican recipe, instructions to make a bow and arrow, and more fun things. But watch out—there is a little bit of math in there too! Written specifically to work with the above Puffin classic version of the book. (2) Soft 472p

History of Art: Creation to Contemporary

Ned Bustard

God made us creative and on Mount Sinai gave instructions on how to use art. Virtually all cultures have made art, art that reveals its hopes, dreams, and beliefs. And by studying the art of past cultures, we can learn something about ourselves in the present.

History of Art: Creation to Contemporary is a distinctively Christian overview covering well-known works of art, from the Lascaux Cave paintings and Winged Victory to the Mona Lisa and American Gothic. But the program also takes time to focus on art by Christians and about the Christian faith.

This art history curriculum was designed to be flexible in order to add beauty not burden to your students' learning experience. There are at least four ways to use this art history curriculum:

OPTION ONE

Two great works of art are on each of the 32 flashcards, along with information about each art movement studied. The full-color workbook contains comprehension questions, crafts, activities, readings, and features on artists of the faith.

movements and works of art are the grammar of art history and will allow the student to navigate nearly every museum of Western art in the world, as well as know how they fit in the study of history. eBooks available

Flashcards #000080	$29.00
Workbook #000081	$49.00

OPTION TWO

Fully integrated with the Veritas History Series (yet able to stand on its own), this art history program can extend from second grade to sixth, to enjoy several cards at a time. Each card has a color bar across the top of the card that matches the history cards, and the overview pages have timelines that use the history card number system to place the art in the proper sequence.

OPTION THREE

The versatility of this curriculum makes it possible to consider using it as a transitional program in 7th grade, because it spans all of Western history. Although full of fun activities for younger kids, the textbook also has in-depth readings for older students about such things as the Golden Mean, perspective, interviews with contemporary artists of faith, and more.

OPTION FOUR

Finally, the art history cards could be used to complement an art program where students are learning to "do" art that you may already be using, mixing them in as a way to add "appreciating" art, its depth and inspiration, while developing basic art skills. Your student will be able to identify all the major art movements in Western art as well as know the titles and artists responsible for over five dozen artistic masterpieces. These

Marlin and Laurie Detweiler,

G. Tyler and Emily Fischer

Again, we're sorry we don't have a self-paced course or even a forecasted date for this level . . . yet. The epistles and other books studied in this series remain very important to study. They're also fairly approachable for parents to teach in our You Teach format, so jump in! Teaching the whole Bible is what helps develop the whole child. It won't be as easy as a self-paced course, but it will be worth it. Students will study 32 events, learning about the problems and opportunities of the early Church in the first century. It's an important place for their study, as many of these texts will be part of a deeper dive into theological issues in their next few years. Designed the same way as our history series, described on page 24. eBooks available

1815 to the Present
History Series

Marlin and Laurie Detweiler,
G. Tyler and Emily Fischer

Sixth grade history picks up with a young America and moves quickly into the struggles resulting in the War Between the States and, not long after, World Wars I and II. Inventions, industry, and urbanization will be brought into chronological context. Thirty-two events will be studied concluding with Modern America. Students will learn from our history in order to build on it, rather than repeat it because of ignorance. The enjoyment—not to mention the effectiveness of the learning—that most experience with the engagement of the self-paced course makes it our recommendation. You'll need the history flashcards and should consider the optional literature kits that accompany the course. Everyone who tries them, loves our Self-Paced courses. They are the best way to learn history for grammar school children. We also know that hands-on projects are crucial to many children's learning at this age. Pulling together great projects can be time-consuming. This Project book will save you all that time. It is in full color. Many of the projects are ready to go without much more than markers and glue. One is needed per student. Read more about the series on page 24.

6TH LATIN

There are several options for which level of Latin to consider here. Students who excelled at Latin for Children, Level C are ready for Latin I (see page 66). Latin Transition II is recommended for those who have not taken Latin for Children, Level C or have not successfully completed a couple years of Latin. Students who have taken very little Latin or are just beginning are encouraged to take Latin Transition I (see page 63). Following this simple advice will help students excel at this most important discipline.

Saxon Algebra 1/2

Hake/Saxon

We recommend Algebra 1/2 over Math 87 because 87 is mostly review and the students we've worked with were ready to move on. This is a great transition into the "dialectic stage" of math. A program that continues to drill and drill, the way math needs to be taught. See description on page 14. New this year: Accelerated Courses in grades 3–5. Highly proficient students benefit from learning essentially two years of math in one, taking advantage of their math-giftedness. Also new are Transition Courses in grades 4–6 for students who need to strengthen key math concepts before moving into the recommended level.

Math-U-See Pre-Algebra

The perfect curriculum for the hands on learner. Pre-Algebra teaches the student to fluently add, subtract, multiply and divide positive and negative numbers. It teaches simplifying exponents and use of properties of operation, order of operations and absolute value. The student will also evaluate radicals and learn to identify the least common multiple and greatest common factor. Includes access to Demme Learning Pre-Algebra digital resources.

In classical education we talk of the grammar stage ending sometime around the end of 6th grade and the dialectic or logic stage beginning. The fact is, students don't turn off their thinking as grammar students one day and turn on thinking as dialectic students the next. A transition occurs. To aid the transition we offer these tools.

The Study of Things Beautiful

Learning about the beauty of God's creation by enjoying the rich heritage of visual arts over the millennia never gets old and is benefitted by the study of art appreciation. Likewise, students who take the time to develop their artistic giftedness will find tremendous blessing that accompanies them for their entire lives. Whether they have the potential of a Renoir or Rembrandt or simply to gain basic skills in drawing technique and perspective, they will enjoy the process of moving things from their mind to a visual image.

The Story of Art

E.H. Gombrich

One of the most famous and popular books on art ever written. Attracted by the simplicity and clarity of his writing, readers of all ages and backgrounds have found in Professor Gombrich a true master, and one who combines knowledge and wisdom with a unique gift for communicating his deep love of the subject. It is a pleasure to read and a pleasure to handle. Soft 688p

History of Art: Creation to Contemporary

Ned Bustard

Although it is designed for younger students, this Art History overview also has projects and readings included for older students. Some might use it as a transitional program in 7th, since it spans all of Western history.

God made us creative and on Mount Sinai gave instructions on how to use art. Virtually all cultures have made art, art that reveals its hopes, dreams, and beliefs. And by studying the art of past cultures, we can learn something about ourselves in the present. This program also takes time to focus on art by Christians and about the Christian faith.

Designed to be flexible to add beauty not burden to your students' learning experience. There are at least four ways to use this art history curriculum:

OPTION ONE

Two great works of art are on each of the 32 flashcards, along with information about each art movement studied. The full-color workbook contains comprehension questions, crafts, activities, readings, and features on artists of the faith.

OPTION TWO

Fully integrated with the Veritas History Series (yet able to stand on its own), this art history program can extend from second grade to sixth, to enjoy several cards at a time. Each card has a color bar across the top of the card that matches the history cards, and the overview pages have timelines that use the history card number system to place the art in the proper sequence.

OPTION THREE

The versatility of this curriculum makes it possible to consider using it as a transitional program in 7th grade, because it spans all of Western history. Although full of fun activities for younger kids, the textbook also has in-depth readings for older students about such things as the Golden Mean, perspective, interviews with contemporary artists of faith, and more.

OPTION FOUR

Finally, the art history cards could be used to complement an art program where students are learning to "do" art that you may already be using, mixing them in as a way to add "appreciating" art, its depth and inspiration, while developing basic art skills. Your student will be able to identify all the major art movements in Western art as well as know the titles and artists responsible for over five dozen artistic masterpieces. These movements and works of art are the grammar of art history and will allow the student to navigate nearly every museum of Western art in the world, as well as know how they fit in the study of history. eBooks available

ENGLISH

Communicating with Style and Effectiveness

At Veritas the English department is primarily about writing and composition. Literature courses are part of our integrated humanities program called Omnibus. With a substantial mastery of English grammar and vocabulary, students are asked to hone their writing skills, learning to turn phrases and write in interesting and enjoyable ways that make you want to read what they write.

We are frequently amazed at the writing of our students. It routinely seems beyond their years, and yet it keeps happening. That's the beauty of classical education. Latin, as a tool of leverage for mastering language, coupled with a thorough study of grammar, prepares students to focus on more than basics.

Composition Vol. I: Invention and Persuasion

Ronald L. Pitcock, Jennifer Workman Pitcock, Rayshelle Dietrich, Jennifer Collender

Having a substantial grasp of English grammar and sentence structure, students are ready to learn to compose in various writing formats. It's the time to take off the writing "training wheels." Creating short stories, essay writing, etc. will help them develop their skills. Composition teaches them to turn phrases and lead the reader through a cleverly composed piece. Veritas Press and the publishers of WORLD Magazine have partnered to create a text that will help them not only argue for their beliefs, but express themselves in their own, unique voice.

Building on skills developed in Composition I, students continue to develop the power of storytelling. They will enjoy a sense of mastery of engaging the reader with their writing. Twenty-first-century students already embrace the power of written communication. They welcome it with every text they send and every email they receive. Here, they'll harness a voice that will build in and through them for a lifetime. "Students and their families will find here the helpful preparation they will need as Christian wordsmiths, both in their undergraduate and more advanced studies and later on in the workplace. # LANGUAGES

Learning the Languages of Our Neighbors

Here at Veritas, foreign languages fall into two categories, classical and modern, and they are often studied for two different reasons. Many study classical languages, Greek and Latin especially, in order to master their own native tongue. More than half of English vocabulary, for example, comes from the classical roots of Greek and Latin, and they are the undisputed foundations of the language we use to talk about law, medicine, government, and the sciences. Further, many view the learning of Latin or Greek as the best preparation for the learning of any other language.

Of course, many learn a modern foreign language for what they perceive to be its practical value: from conducting business across the planet to communicating with their own neighbors at home. Increased globalization certainly favors learning to speak one's own and someone else's language, and some will take on the challenge simply to sharpen their minds.

For whatever the reason, a study of foreign languages is part of any solid classical Christian education, and we are pleased to offer our families many options.

LOGIC & RHETORIC

Thinking Clearly, Communicating Winsomely

These two disciplines, Logic & Rhetoric, should be regarded as the paradigm disciplines for the dialectic and rhetoric stages, respectively. Most of us in our own educations had no training in either one. Learning logic—formal and informal—is nothing short of learning to think. Students who've studied logic can quickly identify a fallacious or shoddy argument, and they can construct a sound one. Who wants to raise a child who cannot reason well?

Rhetoric, as it was understood in antiquity, was a comprehensive art just as much concerned with what one could say as how one might say it. Studying and mastering rhetoric produces students who can communicate winsomely and articulately. This capstone discipline has been ignored for too long. We love seeing our students and yours taking what they've learned and using it to influence their neighbors to the glory of God and the furthering of His kingdom.

We recommend two years of Logic in 7th–9th grades and two years of Rhetoric in 10th–12th grades. Senior Thesis is a very important high school capstone course and should be included. Veritas Logic I starts with the more familiar informal logic and moves into formal logic. We believe this is the most effective order. Rhetoric starts with learning about rhetoric and moves into extensive practice to develop effective rhetoricians over the two years.

Veritas Logic I: Informal Logic

Michael G. Eatman

Logic is the art and science of reasoning well. It focuses on finding and using good reasons for believing something's true. Logic 1, using the Veritas Press logic curriculum, focuses on informal logic. Students are equipped to analyze and construct arguments in common, natural language using inductive reasoning. This curriculum covers the nature of truth, means of knowing, and the justification of belief. Logic 1 also covers common hurdles to sound thinking and reasonable inference. Chief among these are cognitive biases and (informal) logical fallacies. Learning logic is one of the most critical facets in learning to think. This course should not be missed. Formal logic will then be studied in Veritas Logic 2. eBooks available

A Rhetoric of Love vol. 1

Douglas M. Jones

Do you want your students to merely be able to identify Aristotle's Five Canons, or do you want them to become great communicators? We have felt this problem for more than 25 years. And we've felt another problem—classical rhetoric lacks a necessary distinctively Christian foundation.

That is why we are so excited about A Rhetoric of Love. It explores the art of effective, persuasive, winsome communication and stands in a tradition that stretches back to Aristotle and other Greek and Roman teachers. But it departs from it, too.

Jesus calls us to love our neighbors as ourselves. This text asks how we can do that in our speaking and writing and living. How ought Christ's followers to try to persuade others? How should their rhetorical efforts look different from those of the world around them? How can they sincerely listen to others and then speak truth in love? A Rhetoric of Love offers a corrective. It turns to the Bible for guidance, seeking to follow and teach the powerful example of Jesus's words and deeds. A Rhetoric of Love shows high school students a better way to persuade. This is the answer that classical Christian education has needed. eBooks available

It's easy to find textbooks on classical rhetoric. Many offer sound instruction in its three genres, five canons, and three appeals. There's much commendable in these books. What they often fail to do, though, is to train skillful rhetoricians. Enter A Rhetoric of Love. Volume 1 in the series shows students how to shape messages that love and serve an audience. ## Quantifying the Beauty of God's Creation

It might seem that math is the one discipline that is unaffected by biblical thinking—that it's neutral as to worldview. Yet how do we know that  $2 + 2 = 4$  can (or will) always be true—because God is unchanging. Einstein said, "Pure mathematics is, in its way, the poetry of logical ideas," and with tongue likely planted firmly in his cheek, Andre Weil said, "We know that God exists because mathematics is consistent and we know that the devil exists because we cannot prove the consistency."

At Veritas we are pleased to step up the standard to something closer to an historical norm and to the standard of countries producing higher performing math students. With Algebra I as our recommended 7th grade standard, many students complete Calculus I in high school—both a worthy and reasonable endeavor.

The curriculum we recommend includes options ideally suited for the classically educated student. We continue to offer the Saxon curriculum, which remains in the same format as it was in grammar school. Because it's familiar, you may be more comfortable with it. However, we recommend the track that starts with Jacobs Algebra because we believe it's better for the changing nature of the student, who is now more argumentative and interested in learning through a more dialectic approach. We also recommend Math-U-See, especially for students who struggle with learning abstract concepts.

Think Biblically about Everything

Omnibus helps students in grades 7–12 read deeply, think clearly, and articulate what they believe through history, theology, and Great Books — all grounded in a Christian worldview.

WHY IT MATTERS NOW

Parents do not just want their children to know facts. They want them to recognize truth, resist confusion, and stay grounded in what they believe long after graduation.

Omnibus was built for exactly that. By bringing history, theology, and literature together, it helps students develop a biblical worldview that is coherent, durable, and ready for the real world.

MORE THAN A HUMANITIES COURSE

Most programs teach history, theology, and literature as separate subjects. Omnibus brings them together so students can see how ideas shape cultures, how truth speaks across time, and how the Christian worldview makes sense of it all.

Students do not just read important books. They learn how to wrestle with them, evaluate them, and respond with wisdom and conviction.

WHAT STUDENTS GAIN

Rooted in truth

A biblical worldview that helps them interpret the world around them.

Trained to think

The ability to reason carefully, discern wisely, and engage big ideas.

Ready to articulate

Confidence to express what they believe with clarity and persuasive grace.

Prepared for life

Formation that lasts well beyond graduation.

BUILT FOR GRADES 7–12

1 INTEGRATED PROGRAM

History, theology, and literature taught together.

2 COURSES EACH YEAR

Primary and Secondary readings that deepen understanding from different angles.

3 ACADEMIC CREDITS

Students earn credit in history, theology, and literature through one coherent course of study

AVAILABLE IN THE WAY YOUR FAMILY LEARNS BEST

SCIENCE

Understanding God's Creation

Understanding God's creation and how He providentially superintends His world is at the heart of how we view learning science. Scientist Johannes Kepler described science as "thinking God's thoughts after Him." Albert Einstein said, "Everyone who is seriously interested in the pursuit of science becomes convinced that a spirit is manifest in the laws of the universe—a spirit vastly superior to man, and one in the face of which our modest powers must feel humble." And Blaise Pascal, French philosopher, mathematician, and scientist, wrote in Pensees, a book studied in Omnibus VI, "Faith tells us what the senses cannot, but it is not contrary to their findings. It simply transcends, without contradicting them."

We cannot avoid studying science, nor can we pretend that the science we study can be understood apart from God. Enjoying the wonder of the world in which we live helps us understand attributes and aspects of our God. It is a great complement to understanding the Scriptures He's provided us.

Jay L. Wile

This course is designed to be a systematic introduction to science in general and has no prerequisites. The student will learn about the scientific method, designing experiments, simple machines, archaeology, geology, paleontology, biology, human anatomy and human physiology in an introductory way. No lab equipment is required. Necessary materials for experiments are common household items. 3rd ed.

Novare Earth Science is designed to foster a sense of wonder and responsibility for God's world. Landforms, minerals, and planetary phenomena, along with many timely and important topics, are covered, including conservation of natural resources, climate change, pollution, and environmental justice. Students will learn to appreciate the intricacy and excellence of God's works, as the text ties in Scripture without becoming heavy-handed. Note: The author takes an old-earth view. Young-earth perspectives should be supplemented by the teacher.

John D. Mays

This curriculum from Novare is organized around mastery, integration, and kingdom perspective. Topics covered include types of matter, energy, order, and design in creation, forces and fields, measurement, motion, sound and light, electricity and magnetism, and the nature of scientific knowledge. The teacher's version of the experiment is included in the digital resources. Some experiments are demonstrated on YouTube videos. Students love the narrative's personal style, in which the author concisely and accurately explains the concepts with wonder and excitement at the marvels of God's world.

Novare General Chemistry

John D. Mays

In Novare's General Chemistry students learn all aspects of basic chemistry as well as the history of modern chemistry and its mathematics and technical communication. It's taught from a faith-informed perspective, studying God's created order. This is apparent from the observations about order in the universe, in how nature submits to scientific study and modeling, and in the fitness of creation as a habitat for humanity and animal life.

Apologia Exploring Creation with Physics

Jay L. Wile

Algebra II is a prerequisite to this program. It is better following Chemistry, as Physics is generally considered the toughest science. Physics deals with matter and motion including mechanics, heat, light, electricity and sound. No special laboratory equipment is needed. The course uses household items only. 2nd ed.

Novare Introductory Physics

John D. Mays

Introductory Physics is the first of two texts for Veritas' Novare Physics I. Basic Algebra is required for this text. This text is a basic introduction, not an upper-level vector/trig-based course. Student instructions for five complete laboratory experiments are included in the appendix. Teachers instructions are included in the supplemental book. The publisher uses this course as early as 7th grade. It is not a complete high school physics program.

Novare Modeling Nature

John D. Mays

Especially suited to college-preparatory STEM programs. Each chapter includes plenty of exercises and clearly defined learning objectives. Integration of historical background enhances awareness of the legacy and present-day community of scientists. The text covers the entire AP curriculum with a small number of exceptions. It employs vector calculations and assumes students have completed trigonometry. Problems are not calculus-based, but makes calculus connections.

EDUCATIONAL RESOURCES

Classical Christian Education: The New Old Way

We don't want to sell this to you, we want to give it to you. It is intended to be a primer, an introduction to classical Christian education. You can find it at Facebook.com/ExploreClassicalChristianEducation or on our website free (VeritasPress.com/newoldway). At either place you can view it, download it, share it, put it on your website, etc. A great way to tell others about this wonderful educational model.

Classical Christian Education: The New Old Way

Recovering the Lost Tools of Learning

Douglas Wilson

This literally life-changing book eloquently makes the iron-clad case for the necessity to educate our children in a Christian school or home school, and he does so while introducing the successes of the past using methodology and content known as classical Christian education

Virtually all involved in the entire movement intent on recovering these time proven ideas and methods owe their beginning to Wilson's writing in this work. It is a must for all who would see education recover and godliness prevail in the rearing of the next generation.

The Seven Laws of Teaching

John Milton Gregory

The Seven Laws has been a well-worn tool for classical educators. Little did we know the version most of us had had long been stripped of the Christian insights and applications the author had originally included. Now the original is back!

Vocatio

Today, children graduate from high school with a myriad of opportunities. Vocation is an enormous consideration. In Latin, vocatio means “vocation” or “calling.” The last three Omnibus texts include six essays each on different vocations. We've compiled all 18 in this one volume. These essays are written by some very talented and godly folks. Graduates and “soon to be's” will find troves of great information to help think through life's opportunities. eBook only 231p

The Abolition of Man

C.S. Lewis

Written while Sayers and Lewis were engaged in discussions on educational failures, this title has contributed to the thinking of many who seek to “recover the ruins.” A must for anyone committed to classical Christian education. Soft 113p
